Guest Teacher

I will be gone the first week after the holiday break, January 4th-8th. The students know they will have a substitute teacher that week. It might be a good idea to remind them before they go to school on the 4th so they are not surprised when they get there.

Holiday PJ Party

This coming Wednesday will be pajama day and our holiday party. The students can wear pajamas to school that day but will still need warm clothes to wear outside. They may also bring one stuffed animal to have at school that day.

If students are bringing gifts please make sure they have something for everyone in the class.

We will have a party at 1:30 on Wednesday. We will have board games, snacks and maybe a movie. Please let me know if you can bring in a small treat or juice. We can also use some games and appropriate holiday movies.

If your child won't be here on the 23rd please let me know so I can send homework early.

Celebration of Learning

We will be celebrating our expedition, Food for Thought, on Thursday, January 28th at 5:00-6:00. You will get more information on this after the holiday break.
